WILL USE PROFITS TO PAY CONTRACTORS AT NEWELL

General Chemical Company Makes Good Earnings on Stock.

WORK IS BEING RUSHED

Railroad Company Taking Notice of Developments at Newell —New Freight Station.

By the annual report of the General Chemical company, the concern that is installing a mammoth plant at Newell, up the river, the public in this community is made aware of the magnitude of this corporation, as well as the addition that is being made in his section. This report is published in the Daily Wall Street Journal, and the most significant thing about it is that $2,063,290 is charged off the profits of the past year "to be paid to contractors at the completion of the plant at Newell."

Incidentally the report shows that the net profits of the General Chemical company for the past year were $2,139,692, and that it earned 19.36 per cent on $7,410,300 common stock, after payments on preferred stock were made and a reserve of $60,0000 deducted for fire insurance. It has also a profit sharing fund of $109,345 and a fund of $15,000 for the new United States corporation tax, which were deducted from the net profits. The corporation is also putting in a new plant at Vancouver, on the Pacific coast.

Work on the Newell plant is being rushed as rapidly as possible. It was the intention at the start to have part of the plant finished by February 1, but various delays have prevented this. The work, however, is so far along that an early start in production this year is assured.

The steam shovels, which—were to have started some time ago in the work of cutting out space enough for three tracks along the P. and L. E. railroad from the Anchor mines to the new passenger station, did not get started until recently. The distance to be graded is about a mile and a quarter. The road is also to be double-tracked this season from Redstone to Fayette City.

A new freight station is in the course of construction and is about completed. It is 20 by 30 feet, with about 200 feet of a shed.

Becker and Rice have let a contract for a three-story, 32-room frame hotel. The contractors are the Taggert Contracting company of Fayete City. It is also stated that contracts have been let for four or five six-room houses to be built at the earliest possible time.

Grand Jury Takes Up Homicide Case

That of Thomas Kinney Who Killed William Adams Scheduled for Today.

Three homicide cases are scheduled to come before the grand jury today. They are the Commonwealth against Thomas Kinney, Edward Perdee and John Young. Kinney is charged with having shot and killed William Adams at Charleroi. Perdee is alleged to have shot and killed a colored man named William Young at Marianna, and Young, who is a constable in Union township, is charged with having killed a foreigner near Courtney. Several bills were returned by the grand jury yesterday, there being very few ignored.

Several witnesses were called from Charleroi today to testify in the Kinney case, among whom were Chief of Police C. W. Albright, Dr. J. B. Barth and Robert Peyton.

WILSON GETS YEAR IN PEN

Also a Fine of $50 for Trying to Shoot His Wife Here in December.

Dellis Wilson, who on December 18, at Charleroi, made an unsuccessful attempt to kill his wife, entered a plea of guilty yesterday before the court at Washington to charges of felonious assault and with carrying concealed weapons.

Wilson, it will be recalled, had separated from his wife, and she was employed at Charleroi. He had been in Ohio. He came back to Charleroi, had several drinks and then started out to hunt up his wife. Finding her at the place where she was employed he opened fire on her. The four shots fired all missed her. After the fourth shot, James Peterman, a traveling salesman, interfered, seizing Wilson, who fired another shot, the ball grazing the salesman's abdomen. Wilson was overpowered and placed under arrest.

The court sentenced him to pay the costs, a fine of $50 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for a period of one year.

A true bill was found by the grand jury yesterday against Sam Totaro, former storekeeper of Charleroi, who was charged with assault and battery with intent to ravish. Ciro Rufe of Charleroi is the prosecutor, the charge being made on behalf of his seven-year-old daughter.

In the case of Mrs. Susie Smith of Charleroi, charged with arson, a true bill was returned. Chief of Police C. W. Albright is the prosecutor. Mrs. Smith is charged with having set fire to a house on Luella avenue.

Contestants Can Learn Lessons From Methods of Professional Solicitors---Self-Confidence and Industry Certain to Bring Results---Enter the Contest Today---Double Votes.

By V. H. Austin.

Opportunity for new entries in the contest. Send in your nomination today secure one or more of the subscription books and get busy. Now is the time to secure double votes on all subscriptions this week. You can overtake the leader or anyone of the district very easily. Fill out the nomination blank that counts you for one thousand votes, that is a good starter, clip out the voting coupons found on another page, they all count a little.

An Ounce of Work is Worth a Pound of Regret.

The subscription solicitor, working for comparatively small wages, will make a house-to house canvass and is sure to persuade many to take the paper he represents. He makes it a business and offers no other inducement than the good features of the publication.

A candidate in a voting contest, who is fully as intelligent as the hired solicitor, should be able to secure subscriptions much more easily than the professional.

Why?

First, because the candidate is working for a much larger consideration. Any of the prizes offered in the Mail or Mirror voting contest are worth many times what a solicitor would receive for a month of constant labor. The fact that the reward is higher makes the work easier.

Second, the candidate has the advantage in that he is working among people whom he knows, and who are willing, if the request is properly made, to go out of their way to accommodate him.

But the contestant might learn some valuable lessons of the regular canvasser—the man who gets subscriptions for a weekly salary makes it a point never to give up a possible subscriber until there is absoluetly no hope. If he approached a man who says he is already taking another paper the canvasser is always ready with strong arruments in favor of the paper for which he is working.

Then, if the prospective subscriber hesitates to sign for a year, he suggests eight months. He resolves to succeed in each attempt and for that reason fails in but few cases.

If the candidate who has thus far been making only timid, half-hearted efforts to secure votes should make up his mind that the first prize is worth having, and that he will do his best to secure it, he will be surprised to find what a little systematic work we will accomplish.

Because some one else has 1,000, 5,000 or even 10,000 more ballots than you, is no reason for discouragement. Resolve to spend one-half day in visiting those whom you know and solicit their subscriptions—Why can't you he the fortunate one?

Get busy and stay busy is the only sure road to success, not only in voting contests, but in any line of effort.

Don't wait until the last day.

Don't trust to luck.

Don't become discouraged.

Strive to be among the winners, get your friends to help you, not only by subsribing themselves, but by getting others to subscribe and when the final count is made, you will not be disappointed.

VOTES COUNTED.

All votes turned in each day before 6 p. m. will appear the following day.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Knights of the Golden Eagle Have Good Time at Allenport Monday.

The members of James Hill, Sr., Circle No. 117 Knights of the Golden Eagle, celebrated their thirteenth anniversary Monday evening by giving a banquet in honor of the occasion. Beside a large number of the local members there were a goodly number of visters present. The banquet was a decided success, from a fraternal view point. The committee had a good program arranged.

The invocation was made by Rev. Johnson of Mountaindale Castle, after which the chairman introduced the toastmaster, John Mallabone, Jr., who made a brief address, and then introduced D. L. Davis of W. T. Sherman, Castle, who was followed by Rev. J. M. Feightner of Wall, Pa. Rev. Feightner is a member of the local Castle.

Rev. Johnson followed with a very interesting address on the "Founder, Foundation and Principles of the Order," after which the following brothers made short addresses:

District Grand Chief Wm. Smith, R. C., John Dunlop, P. C., Reese Nicholas, and many others. The fun was furnished by the Castle funmakers, who had composed verses about the different members, that caused great merriment around the table. The members all wore pink carnations.

The castle is one of the thriving castles of western Pennsylvania, having increased its membership 35 per cent during the last year. It will be remembered by the successful field meet held last June at Vesta. In athletics this castle has excelled all other fraternal orders in this section of the State, having produced one Marathon winner, who won the big Marathon held at Charleroi last April 29, and a baseball team that wouldn't bow to any of them.

Coal at Cost.

Although the prospect of a settlement of the wage scale before the first of April between the coal miners and operators seems somewhat dubious at this particular time, President T. L. Lewis of the miners' organization is optimistic as to the final outcome, and predicts that there will be no suspension, and that the miners will continue work without a break at a substantial increase. At the same time President Lewis recognizes conditions as they actually exist with the operators, which must undergo a radical change before any substantial increase in wages can be paid the miners. This is that a big lot of the production of bituminous coal in the United States is mined and sold at cost under circumstances which the operators are thus far powerless to control.

This condition President Lewis attributes to the railroads and big industrial corporations. These, he says, force the coal operators to sell their coal to them at practically cost, when, in the face of increasing cost of production the selling price of coal should advance in proportion. It is this which prompts the operators to resist advances in wages, and not greed, as is attributed to them. This greed is higher up, although in some instances the influences that keep the prices of coal down are connected with both mines and railroads, which always exact a highly profitable traffic rate.

In recognizing this economic condition President Lewis has strengthened his position. His contention for the miners is just and equitable, and he is equally just in his recognition of the position of the operators. This should have the effect of adjusting conditions so that the large coal consumers cannot dictate the selling prices. Then mining will be safer and more profitale to miners and operators alike.

Wife Deserters.

In his address before the meeting of the juvenile court committee at Washington last week Marcus Flagg, probation officer of the Allegheny juvenile court, touched upon a subject that should receive further action and consideration. This is that the State should aid in apprehending and bringing back men who desert their families. It is the result of these desertions that makes business for the juvenile court, and in most instances the real cause, the husband and father, is exempt from punishment. Mr. Flagg stated that many women appeared before alderman to make complaint against their husbands who had deserted them and were informed that if money were furnished the husband would be brought back, but as the deserted wife is usually penniless, the culprit is allowed to escape, and the children too frequently become subjects for the juvenile court.

It has been suggested that such cases be looked after by the State constabulary at the expense of the State. In nearly every such instance local officials seek to evade the costs of such cases, and the worst kind of injustice is permitted to prevail. If deserters of families could be apprehended with no cost to the community, there would probably not be so many cases on record. This is a matter that friends of the juvenile court should put up to the prospective candidates for Senate and Assembly.

Lent.

Today, Ash Wednesday, ushers in the Lenten season. This is the beginning of the penetential season in church circles, the time when worldly affairs are supposed to be laid aside for the better consideration of things spiritual. While not strictly observed by all church denomination, it virtually concerns the greater portion of all Christendom.

1 VOTE FOR

M.....

Address.....

District .....

Void after Feb. 19, 1910. Subject to the conditions of The Charleroi Mail and Mirror's Great Contest.

☛ This Ballot Must be Carefully Trimmed on all Sides

There is a deeper significance in the observance of Lent than may appear to the non-churchman. It is a period when those under the jurisdiction of the church are commanded to take stock of themselves; to examine their line of conduct; to curb unhallowed desires, and to practice self-restraint in general in material affairs, as well as give attention to things spiritual. That this cannot fail but be beneficial to any individual or class is apparent to all. It has its spiritual influences also, and it serves as a guide in following the precepts of the Great Teacher, as well as curbing the desires of the flesh.

Lent, therefore, is of deep significance to Christianity. Its influences are far-reaching and beneficient, and aside from its religious symbolism it prescribes an ethical code of great moral import. Observed in the proper spirit Lent becomes one of the most important seasons of the year.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message From a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality.

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and improverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow muddy complexion, dark circled eyes, general weakness of the system and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Mme. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucu-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucu-Tone as a cure for systematic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, laking in energy and vitality, will use Rexall Mucu-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucu-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall-Mucu Tone does relieve catarrh. We positively guarantee to refund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexions. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store—The Rexall Store. John W. Carroll.

Ignored Bill Against Perry.

This week the grand jury ignored the charge of the Commonwealth versus Sol. Perry, on a charge of felonious assault and battery, with intent to maim. Perry, who is colored, lives at North Charleroi. The charge is that he fired a shot into another negro, a boarder, Howaad Carter by name, whom he alleges interfered unduly with his family affairs.

Plan to Endow Orchestra.

A plan for the endowment of the Pittsburg Orchestra, of which Emil Paur is director, has been formulated, through the creating of a chartered organization. If an income of $50,000 a year can be secured the orchestra on May 1 will be separated from the Art Society of Pittsburg to be turned over to the new corporation. The plan as outlined provides for three classes to membership, contributing members, who will pay annual dues of $100; life members, who will pay $2,000 and be exempt from further dues or assessments; founders, who will pay $5,000 and upwards.

A PRECOCIOUS DOG.

The Wonderful Feats He Performed For Joseph Jefferson.

There is a story that is told of Joseph Jefferson and the boys that had to do with the training of dogs. It appears that there was a gentleman in New Iberia who owned a very intelligent animal, and he was most anxious for Mr. Jefferson to see an example of his prowess. Accordingly he brought him to the island one day and put him through his various tricks, which were remarkably clever.

When the performance was over Mr Jefferson expressed his appreciation, and wonder at what the dog had done, but added that he had an animal that was even more remarkable. As the gentleman seemed to be in some doubt as to the truth of this statement the dog, a dejected, stupid looking beast, was produced, and Mr. Jefferson ordered him to go into his room and bring him a shoe.

Obediently the dog trotted into the house to presently reappear with the shoe in his mouth. Taking it from him, Mr. Jefferson patted him upon the head and told him to return to his room and bring him the slipper for his left foot.

"And, mind you, bring the left one," he cautioned as the animal trotted away.

When he returned in a moment with the left slipper the gentleman could hardly express his astonishment, but Mr. Jefferson waved the matter indifferently aside.

"It is nothing," said he. "However, we will now try something a little more difficult." Then, turning to the dog, he spoke to him very slowly and carefully. "Now go into the library," said he, "look upon the bottom shelf on the right hand side of the room and you will see a set of Dickens. Bring me the second volume. Remember, now, the second volume; not the first or the third, but the second."

When the dog returned in a few moments with the second volume in his mouth the gentleman retired in the utmost confusion, declaring that in comparison with such a prodigy his own much vaunted animal was little better than an imbecile.

And I may add that Mr. Jefferson enjoyed the joke fully as much as did the boys, who, according to a prearranged plan, had placed each successive article in the prodigy's mouth. As to the prodigy, his one accomplishment consisted of trotting into the house and trotting out of it again.—Nevil G. Henshaw in Bohemian.

Table Mountain.

At Capetown, in South Africa, where the traveler usually has the first glimpse of the continent, is Table mountain, a magnificent natural curiosity which rises behind the city to the height of almost 4,000 feet and has a level top about three square miles in area. Its resemblance to a huge table is so marked that the dense clouds which collect at times around the summit are referred to as the tablecloth. A pretty little flower which is found nowhere else on earth grows on top, while on the northern side of its base is a similarly rare tree, popularly called the silver leaf tree.

A Good Guess.

"Does your father know you smoke, little boy?" asked the inquisitive stranger.

"I guess not," replied the bad boy "He doesn't lock up his cigars."—Detroit Free Press.

A Useless Rule.

He (teaching her bridge)—When in doubt it's a good rule to play trumps. She—But that's just it; when I'm in doubt I don't know what the trump is. —Philadelphia Record.

The Slow One.

"Would you," he said after they had been sitting in the dark for a long time, "be angry with me if I were to kiss you?"

She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken she replied:

"Why do you suppose I turned down the light an hour and a half ago?"

And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started far in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

A Chronic Grumbler.

Charles Lamb tells of a chronic grumbler who always complained at whist because he had so few trumps. By some artifice his companions managed to fix the cards so that when he dealt he got the whole thirteen, hoping to extort some expression of satisfaction, but he only looked more wretched than ever as he examined his hand.

"Well, Tom," said Lamb, "haven't you trumps enough this time?"

"Yes," grunted Tom, "but I've no other cards."

Not Particular.

Mme. Calve at a ladies' luncheon was condoned by an elderly spinster on the ground that a laudatory article about her had not been very subtle or discriminating.

"I know well," said the spinster, smiling behind her glittering spectacles, "that only discriminating praise counts as praise with you."

"Don't talk about discriminating praise," answered Mme. Calve. "Fulsome flattery is good enough for me." —Washington Star.

Absorbing.

"Is the new filing system a success?"

"Great!"

"And how's business?"

"Oh, we've stopped business to attend to the filing system."—Boston Traveler.

YOUTHFUL BEAUTY

How to Retain and Preserve it for Many Years.

What would you give for a sure method of stopping the ravages of time—or, better still—turning back the hands of the clock for a few years until you returned to the period of rosy cheeks and the clear, healthful complexion that we so greatly admire in youth? This is easier than it sounds, and here is no mystery about the process, for it simply requires the combined use of Crown Cream and the Harlan Beauty Cup. The countless friends of Crown Cream know that this is the one toilet article that never disappoints its patrons. Even when used without massage, it works wonders for starved skin tissues, plumping out those portions that are ill nourished; cleansing away impurities, as well as pimples, black heads, liver spots and like blemishes.

But it is when used with the Beauty Cup that Crown Cream is really at its best, because then it has the advantage of the most pefect form of massage ever devised. Nothing else will act so quickly upon wrinkles and the other marks of time which are so unnecessary. The Beauty Cup costs only 50c, and this is the price, too, of Crown Cream by the jar. Your dealer should keep both of these toilet necessities, but if he does not, you can order them direct from the Harlan Mfg. Co., Toledo, O., will send the goods prepaid upon receipt of price.

A Large Boulder Fell in Front of a Passenger Train Going at Fifty Miles an Hour.

And it was almost miraculous that everyone of the two hundred passengers were not crushed to death.

When you read such startling headlines in the daily paper did you ever stop to think how many lives are being crushed out daily by stones in the bladders of hundreds of human beings because no remedy was ever known to medical science that would remove them until bloodine was discovered; and since bloodine has been found to be a specific for this terrible affliction, it has had the most phenomenal sale throughout the East and West, of any remedy ever known. Thousands of bottles having been sold in a single day in many of the large cities.

If you are suffering with stone in the bladder, aching pains over hips, backache, sediment or deposit in urine, irritation of the bladder, pain in urinating, rheumatism, uric acid in the blood, sudden stoppage of the urine, highly colored or milky white urine, pass blood or mucous in urine, retention of urine, straining after urinating, thick or sluggish urine, scystitis inflammation of bladder, catarrh of bladder, or bowels, puffiness under eyes, voracious appetite, thirst, gall stones, gravel, pain in urethra, swollen ankle, dimmed vision, specks before the eyes, scanty urine, frequent calls, mouth dry, biliousness, dribbling, lumbago, weakness, loss of flesh, irregular heart action, ulceration of the bladder, skin pale, waxy and dry, bad odor of perspiration, don't delay, but send to your druggist and get a bottle of bloodine at once; if he does not keep bloodine, you can secure a six weeks' treatment, six bottles, for $2.50 or single bottles 50c, trial bottle and booklet 10c, from The Bloodine Laboratories, Boston, Mass.

PENROSE CALLS FOR ECONOMY

Senior Senator From Pennsylvania Takes Strong Stand Against Congressional Extravagance

APPROVES THE TAFT PROGRAM

Is Friendly to Inland Waterways But With Him the Best Interests of the Whole Country Come First. Death of Chairman Andrews.

It is a positive certainty that the cost of living in the United States will be thoroughly aired by congress. The responsibility for high prices will be definitely fixed just where it belongs and if governmental remedy is possible that remedy will be supplied promptly and effectively. If responsibility for "the white man's burden," and for that matter every man's burden, rests with the tariff that fact will be developed, and promptly too. On Saturday last President Taft served notice upon the Republican leaders in congress that he will not consent to any evasion by the committee to have charge of the proposed inquiry into the cost of household necessities. He will not submit, he has declared, to any whitewash of the tariff. The committee on inquiry must hew to the line regardless of where the chips may fall. In his firm position the President is being sustained and supported by United States Senator Boies Penrose, one of the chief advisors of the executive.

Senator Penrose has also taken a strong position against large appropriations for internal improvements by the present congress. He has warned members of congress that the condition of the federal finances will not permit heavy expenditures for river and harbor projects, the construction of federal buildings and other public work. The Senator is an enthusiastic advocate of the development of inland waterways. He is especially interested in the further improvement of the Ohio, the Monongahela and Allegheny, and the deepening of the harbors at Erie and Philadelphia. But he takes the broad view that the interests of the country must be the first consideration. He urges that congress should enact a river and harbor bill that will limit appropriations to the continuance of improvements now in progress. A strong sentiment prevails in both branches of congress in favor of a bill that will appropriate at least eighty millions for river and harbor work. To take this amount from the Treasury during this year, Senator Penrose says, might result in embarrassment to the administration of President Taft. He suggests that large expenditures for internal improvements be delayed until the next congress, when the Payne bill will have been in operation long enough to enable officials of the Treasury to accurately estimate what may be expected from it as a producer of revenue. The Pennsylvania Senator is as familiar with the government's finances as any other Senator. As a member of the Finance Committee, the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads and the new Committee on Public Expenditures, he has been brought into close relationship with the Treasury and has carefully investigated the government's financial system. Senators Aldrich and Hale and other Republican leaders in the Senate concur with Senator Penrose in his views relative to economy in public expenditures. The last large river and harbor bill authorized a total appropriation of about eighty-five millions and two years ago congress appropriated about twenty-seven millions for the construction of federal buildings.

Every Republican in Pennsylvania will learn with sincere regret of the death of Wesley Richard Andrews chairman of the Republican committee of Pennsylvania, which occurred at Washington last Saturday. Col Andrews was a Republican, staunch and true. He stood consistently and firmly for political organization and he had a capacity for details far beyond the ordinary man. He was a soldier and a gentleman. He knew Pennsylvania politics. He served his party long and well. Those who knew him best, regardless of party lines, will regard his death as a personal loss. Col. Andrews just recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday. On Monday his remains were buried in New York beside the remains of his wife and daughters. Col. Andrews won many notable battles, but in his final contest he yielded without a protest to the unseen Power which lays the shepherd's crook beside the scepter.

Good Will.

If you are sure of the good will in your own heart you will surely find it in God, in man, everywhere, and you will be able to see that the sun is shining, all nature is fair and friends are kind.—Rev. A. G. Singsen, Presbyterian, Providence, R. I.

Unending Joy.

This life is but a time of preparation for a life of unending joy and bliss. This is the lesson we are to learn today—that heaven is to be gained only through suffering; unending joy is to be purchased with the coin of sacrifice. First the cross, then the crown.—Rev. David J. Toomey, Roman Catholic, Boston.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Whoever Loves Is Never Old.

When life has been well spent age is a loss of what it can well spare—muscular strength, organic instincts, gross bulk and works that belong to these. But the central wisdom which was old in infancy was young in fourscore years and, dropping off obstructions, leaves in happy subjects the mind purified and wise. I have heard that whoever loves is in no condition old. I have heard that whenever the name of man is spoken the doctrine of immortality is announced. It cleaves to his constitution. The mode of it baffles our wit, and no whisper comes to us from the other side. But the inference from the working of intellect, having knowledge, having skill—at the end of life just ready to be born—affirms the inspiration of affection and of the moral sentiment.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

A Mother's Troubles.

The mother of a large family fell ill and died, and the attending physician reported that she died of starvation. It was incredible, but he proved it. The woman had to get the dinner and then spend the next two hours in waiting on the family and getting the children to the table. It was never on record that she got all of them there at the same time, and they came straggling in all the way from potatoes to pie. By the time she had wiped the last face her own hunger had left her and she had no desire to eat. Chickens, the doctor said, come running at feed time, but children don't. A hen has a better chance to eat than a mother.—Atchison Globe.

Marlborough House.

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44,000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare upon the society of her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay:

Acquainted with the world and quite well bred,
Drusa receives her visitants in bed.

"Sauerkraut" Supper Next.

Last evening the Ladies Aid Society of the Christ Lutheran Church held their regular monthy meeting and reports were made of the recent supper held, which netted them a neat sum. They will give another one, a Sauerkraut Supper, on Thursday, March 10, at the same place.

To the Public.

In view of the fact that the local journeymen barber's union compelled the master barber of Charleroi to sign a scale formulated by them increasing the price of shaving to 15 cents, and imposing other terms, I desire to state that such proceeding was unwarranted. I had already signed a yearly agreement with Local No. 20 of Pittsburg for one year, ending May 1. Correspondence with the International secretary reveals the fact that the local union had no right to make such a demand, while the other agreement was in existance. Therefore my shop will be conducted the same as heretofore until the other agreement expires.

THE FINEST SHOW OF ENTIRE SEASON

One of the biggest theatrical hits of the year has been "St. Elmo," a dramatization of the well known story written more than half a century ago by Augusta J. Evans. There are several other versions of this play being presented by different people throughout the country, but the only authorized version is that which will be shown at the Coyle Theatre Thursday night, Februarv 10. This company is under the direction of Mr Vaughan Glaseer, who has attained much prominence as a producer of new plays, and the fact that he was one of the first to see merit in "St. Elmo" as a play certainly redounds to his credit. He has selected a cast of exceptional ability to portray the difficult roles in this play of Tennesee life. Edgar Lewis will portray the character of St. Elmo, and will be ably assisted by Miss Irene Gammell as Edna Earl, whose evolution from a crude "Po white" to the fascinating protege of an aristocratic Southern woman; is swift and complete. They are surrounded by a cast of more than ordinary excellence among whom are the following well known people: Marie Lorenz, Virginia Bray, Roy Rawings Hugh Wynne, John W. Noble, G. W. Ward and Gertrude Augarde.

Entertains Friends.

Miss Florence Osborne entertained the "Lemonade Crowd," composed of a number of young people of Charleroi at her home on Washington avenue last evening. The evening was delightfully spent with music and games, and the hostess served a lunch.

Why does Great Britian buy its oatmeal of us?

Certainly it seems like carrying coals to Newcastle to speak of exporting oatmeal to Scotland and yet, every year the Quaker Oats Company sends hundreds of thousands of cases of Quaker Oats to Great Britian and Europe.

The reason is simple; while the English and Scotch have for centuries eaten oatmeal in quantities and with a regularity that has made them the most rugged physically, and active mentally of all people, the American has been eating oatmeal and trying all the time to improve the methods of manufacture so that he might get that desirable foreign trade.

How well he has succeeded would be seen at a glance at the export reports on Quaker Oats. This brand is without a rival; is packed in regular 10c packages, and in large size family packages at 25c. 51

WILL USE PROFITS TO PAY CONTRACTORS AT NEWELL

General Chemical Company Makes Good Earnings on Stock.

WORK IS BEING RUSHED

Railroad Company Taking Notice of Developments at Newell —New Freight Station.

By the annual report of the General Chemical company, the concern that is installing a mammoth plant at Newell, up the river, the public in this community is made aware of the magnitude of this corporation, as well as the addition that is being made in his section. This report is published in the Daily Wall Street Journal, and the most significant thing about it is that $2,063,290 is charged off the profits of the past year "to be paid to contractors at the completion of the plant at Newell."

Incidentally the report shows that the net profits of the General Chemical company for the past year were $2,139,692, and that it earned 19.36 per cent on $7,410,300 common stock, after payments on preferred stock were made and a reserve of $60,0000 deducted for fire insurance. It has also a profit sharing fund of $109,345 and a fund of $15,000 for the new United States corporation tax, which were deducted from the net profits. The corporation is also putting in a new plant at Vancouver, on the Pacific coast.

Work on the Newell plant is being rushed as rapidly as possible. It was the intention at the start to have part of the plant finished by February 1, but various delays have prevented this. The work, however, is so far along that an early start in production this year is assured.

The steam shovels, which were to have started some time ago in the work of cutting out space enough for three tracks along the P. and L. E. railroad from the Anchor mines to the new passenger station, did not get started until recently. The distance to be graded is about a mile and a quarter. The road is also to be double-tracked this season from Redstone to Fayette City.

A new freight station is in the course of construction and is about completed. It is 20 by 30 feet, with about 200 feet of a shed.

Becker and Rice have let a contract for a three-story, 32-room frame hotel. The contractors are the Taggert Contracting company of Fayete City. It is also stated that contracts have been let for four or five six-room houses to be built at the earliest possible time.

Grand Jury Takes Up Homicide Case

That of Thomas Kinney Who Killed William Adams Scheduled for Today.

Three homicide cases are scheduled to come before the grand jury today. They are the Commonwealth against Thomas Kinney, Edward Perdee and John Young. Kinney is charged with having shot and killed William Adams at Charleroi. Perdee is alleged to have shot and killed a colored man named William Young at Marianna, and Young, who is a constable in Union township, is charged with having killed a foreigner near Courtney. Several bills were returned by the grand jury yesterday, there being very few ignored.

Several witnesses were called from Charleroi today to testify in the Kinney case, among whom were Chief of Police C. W. Albright, Dr. J. B. Barth and Robert Peyton.

WILSON GETS YEAR IN PEN

Also a Fine of $50 for Trying to Shoot His Wife Here in December.

Dellis Wilson, who on December 18, at Charleroi, made an unsuccessful attempt to kill his wife, entered a plea of guilty yesterday before the court at Washington to charges of felonious assault and with carrying concealed weapons.

Wilson, it will be recalled, had separated from his wife, and she was employed at Charleroi. He had been in Ohio. He came back to Charleroi, had several drinks and then started out to hunt up his wife. Finding her at the place where she was employed he opened fire on her. The four shots fired all missed her. After the fourth shot, James Peterman, a traveling salesman, interfered, seizing Wilson, who fired another shot, the ball grazing the salesman's abdomen. Wilson was overpowered and placed under arrest.

The court sentenced him to pay the costs, a fine of $50 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for a period of one year.

A true bill was found by the grand jury yesterday against Sam Totaro, former storekeeper of Charleroi, who was charged with assault and battery with intent to ravish. Ciro Rufe of Charleroi is the prosecutor, the charge being made on behalf of his seven-year-old daugbter.

In the case of Mrs. Susie Smith of Charleroi, charged with arson, a true bill was returned. Chief of Police C. W. Albright is the prosecutor. Mrs. Smith is charged with having set fire to a house on Luella avenue.

HUSTLING NOW PREVENTS DISAPPOINTMENT LATER

Contestants Can Learn Lessons From Methods of Professional Solicitors---Self-Confidence and Industry Certain to Bring Results---Enter the Contest Today---Double Votes.

By V. H. Austin.

Opportunity for new entries in the contest. Send in your nomination today, get an application blank and get busy. Now is the time to secure double votes on all subscriptions this week. You can overtake the leader or anyone of the district very easily. Fill out the nomination blank that counts you for one thousand votes, that is a good starter, clip out the voting coupons found on another page, they all count a little.

An Ounce of Work is Worth a Pound of Regret.

The subscription solicitor, working for comparatively small wages, will make a house-to house canvass and is sure to persuade many to take the paper he represents. He makes it a business and offers no other inducement than the good features of the publication.

A candidate in a voting contest, who is fully as intelligent as the hired solicitor, should be able to secure subscriptions much more easily than the professional.

Why?

First, because the candidate is working for a much larger consideration. Any of the prizes offered in the Mail or Mirror voting contest are worth many times what a solicitor would receive for a month of constant labor. The fact that the reward is higher makes the work easier.

Second, the candidate has the advantage in that he is working among people whom he knows, and who are willing, if the request is properly made, to go out of their way to accommodate him.

But the contestant might learn some valuable lessons of the regular canvasser in the field. The man who gets subscriptions for a weekly salary makes it a point never to give up a possible subscriber until there is absoluetly no hope. If he approached a man who says he is already taking another paper the canvasser is always ready with strong arguments in favor of the paper for which he is working.

Then, if the prospective subscriber hesitates to sign for a year, he suggests eight months. He resolves to succeed in each attempt and for that reason fails in but few cases.

If the candidate who has thus far been making only timid, half-hearted efforts to secure votes should make up his mind that the first prize is worth having, and that he will do his best to secure it, he will be surprised to find what a little systematic work we will accomplish.

Because some one else has 1,000, 5,000 or even 10,000 more ballots than you, is no reason for discouragement. Resolve to spend one-half day is visiting those whom you know and solicit their subscriptions—Why can't you be the fortunate one?

Get busy and stay busy is the only sure road to success, not only in voting contests, but in any line of effort

Don't wait until the last day.

Don't trust to luck.

Don't become discouraged.

Strive to be among the winners, get your friends to help you, not only by subsribing themselves, but by getting others to subscribe and when the final count is made, you will not be disappointed.

VOTES COUNTED.

All votes turned in each day before 6 p. m. will appear the following day.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Knights of the Golden Eagle Have Good Time at Allenport Monday.

The members of James Hill, Sr., Circle No. 117 Knights of the Golden Eagle, celebrated their thirteenth anniversary Monday evening by giving a banquet in honor of the occasion. Beside a large number of the local members there were a goodly number of vistors present. The banquet was a decided success, from a fraternal view point. The committee had a good program arranged.

The invocation was made by Rev. Johnson of Mountaindale Castle, after which the chairman introduced the toastmaster. John Mallabone, Jr., who made a brief address, and then introduced D. L. Davis of W. T. Sherman. Castle, who was followed by Rev. J. M. Feightner of Wall, Pa. Rev. Feightner is a member of the local Castle.

Rev. Johnson followed with a very interesting address on the "Founder, Foundation and Principles of the Order," after which the following brothers made short addresses:

District Grand Chief Wm. Smith, R. C., John Dunlop, P. C., Reese Nicholas, and many others. The fun was furnished by the Castle funmakers, who had composed verses about the different members, that caused great merriment around the table. The members all wore pink carnations.

The castle is one of the thriving castles of western Pennsylvania, having increased its membership 35 per cent during the last year. It will be remembered by the successful field meet held last June at Vesta. In athletics this castle has excelled all other fraternal orders in this section of the State, having produced one Marathon winner, who won the big Marathon held at Charleroi last April 29, and a baseball team that wouldn't bow to any of them.

Coal at Cost.

Although the prospect of a settlement of the wage scale before the first of April between the coal miners and operators seems somewhat dubious at this particular time, President T. L. Lewis of the miners' organization is optimistic as to the final outcome, and predicts that there will be no suspension, and that the miners will continue work without a break at a substantial increase. At the same time President Lewis recognizes conditions as they actually exist with the operators, which must undergo a radical change before any substantial increase in wages can be paid the miners. This is that a big lot of the production of bituminous coal in the United States is mined and sold at cost under circumstances which the operators are thus far powerless to control.

This condition President Lewis attributes to the railroads and big industrial corporations. These, he says, force the coal operators to sell their coal to them at practically cost, when, in the face of increasing cost of production the selling price of coal should advance in proportion. It is this which prompts the operators to resist advances in wages, and not greed, as is attributed to them. This greed is higher up, although in some instances the influences that keep the prices of coal down are connected with both mines and railroads, which always exact a highly profitable traffic rate.

In recognizing this economic condition President Lewis has strengthened his position. His contention for the miners is just and equitable, and he is equally just in his recognition of the position of the operators. This should have the effect of adjusting conditions so that the large coal consumers cannot dictate the selling prices. Then mining will be safer and more profitale to miners and operators alike.

Wife Deserters.

In his address before the meeting of the juvenile court committee at Washington last week Marcus Flagg, probation officer of the Allegheny juvenile court, touched upon a subject that should receive further action and consideration. This is that the State should aid in apprehending and bringing back men who desert their families. It is the result of these desertions that makes business for the juvenile court, and in most instances the real cause, the husband and father, is exempt from punishment. Mr. Flagg stated that many women appeared before alderman to make complaint against their husbands who had deserted them and were informed that if money were furnished the husband would be brought back, but as the deserted wife is usually penniless, the culprit is allowed to escape, and the children too frequently become subjects for the juvenile court.

It has been suggested that such cases be looked after by the State constabulary at the expense of the State. In nearly every such instance local officials seek to evade the costs of such cases, and the worst kind of injustice is permitted to prevail. If deserters of families could be apprehended with no cost to the community, there would probably not be so many cases on record. This is a matter that friends of the juvenile court should put up to the prospective candidates for Senate and Assembly.

Lent.

Today, Ash Wednesday, ushers in the Lenten season. This is the beginning of the penetential season in church circles, the time when worldly affairs are supposed to be laid aside for the better consideration of things spiritual. While not strictly observed by all church denomination, it virtually concerns the greater portion of all Christendom.

There is a deeper significance in the observance of Lent than may appear to the non-churchman. It is a period when those under the jurisdiction of the church are commanded to take stock of themselves; to examine their line of conduct; to curb unhallowed desires, and to practice self-restraint in general in material affairs, as well as give attention to things spiritual. That this cannot fail but be beneficial to any individual or class is apparent to all. It has its spiritual influences also, and it serves as a guide in following the precepts of the Great Teacher, as well as curbing the desires of the flesh.

Lent, therefore, is of deep significance to Christianity. Its influences are far-reaching and beneficient, and aside from its religious symbolism it prescribes an ethical code of great moral import. Observed in the proper spirit Lent becomes one of the most important seasons of the year.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message From a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality.

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and improverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow muddy complexion, dark circled eyes, general weakness of the system and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Mme. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucu-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucu-Tone as a cure for systematic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, laking in energy and vitality, will use Rexall Mucu-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucu-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall-Mucu Tone does relieve catarrh. We positively guarantee to refund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexions. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store—The Rexall Store. John W. Carroll.

Ignored Bill Against Perry.

This week the grand jury ignored the charge of the Commonwealth versus Sol. Perry, on a charge of felonious assault and battery, with intent to maim. Perry, who is colored, lives at North Charleroi. The charge is that he fired a shot into another negro, a boarder, Howard Carter by name, whom he alleges interfered unduly with his family affairs.

The Uniontown Morning Herald is authority for the statement that the Brownsville board of health is going to clean up. Going to take a bath is it?

By the time "Billy" Sunday gets through with New Castle, all the really bad people will have emigrated to Beaver Falls, and he will have to be right there to drive them back again.

One of the rewards of simple living is that a man can carry his veriform appendix with him to the grave.

The way of the transgressor may be hard, but it isn't lonesome—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Because he wants the streets paved, a Bridgeport, Ohio, man has made the unique request that the borough insure him for a million or so, so that when he dies they will get the money. Probably hasn't thought of the possibility of some suffering taxpayer waiting at some dark alley, ready to knock him in the head.

Because carpenters came to Charleroi yesterday and started to move the ticket window in the station, some people thought they were going to tear down the station. When they found out that such was not the case they actually became angered at the railroad company.

In Paris they had a show where people represented chickens. It was pretty nice people though, but after the thing was over, they asked each other what it was all about. Probably because they couldn't find enough sensation in the chanticleer's crow.

Monessen had more of an increase in population during the past year than Charleroi did. That's all right, we won't have to spend so much money building school houses.

When Senator Aldrich gets his vocal artillery working, it is sure to cause some fellow to sit up and take notice. It is nothing like the interest that is taken when an heretofore unheard man begins to get windy.

Lent may be made to serve a double purpose this year. By observing it faithfully one can lay up treasurers in Heaven and boycott the meat trust at the same time.

Plan to Endow Orchestra.

A plan for the endowment of the Pittsburg Orchestra, of which Emil Paur is director, has been formulated, through the creating of a chartered organization. If an income of $50,000 a year can be secured the orchestra on May 1 will be separated from the Art Society of Pittsburg to be turned over to the new corporation. The plan as outlined provides for three classes to membership, contributing members, who will pay annual dues of $100; life members, who will pay $2,000 and be exempt from further dues or assessments; founders, who will pay $5,000 and upwards.

A PRECOCIOUS DOG.

The Wonderful Feats He Performed For Joseph Jefferson.

There is a story that is told of Joseph Jefferson and the boys that had to do with the training of dogs. It appears that there was a gentleman in New Iberia who owned a very intelligent animal, and he was most anxious for Mr. Jefferson to see an example of his prowess. Accordingly he brought him to the island one day and put him through his various tricks, which were remarkably clever.

When the performance was over Mr Jefferson expressed his appreciation and wonder at what the dog had done but added that he had an animal that was even more remarkable. As the gentleman seemed to be in some doubt as to the truth of this statement the dog, a dejected, stupid looking beast, was produced, and Mr. Jefferson ordered him to go into his room and bring him a shoe.

Obediently the dog trotted into the house to presently reappear with the shoe in his mouth. Taking it from him, Mr. Jefferson patted him upon the head and told him to return to his room and bring him the slipper for his left foot.

"And, mind you, bring the left one," he cautioned as the animal trotted away.

When he returned in a moment with the left slipper the gentleman could hardly express his astonishment, but Mr. Jefferson waved the matter indifferently aside.

"It is nothing," said he. "However, we will now try something a little more difficult." Then, turning to the dog, he spoke to him very slowly and carefully. "Now go into the library," said he, "look upon the bottom shelf on the right hand side of the room and you will see a set of Dickens. Bring me the second volume. Remember now, the second volume; not the first or the third, but the second."

When the dog returned in a few moments with the second volume in his mouth the gentleman retired in the utmost confusion, declaring that in comparison with such a prodigy his own much vaunted animal was little better than an imbecile.

And I may add that Mr. Jefferson enjoyed the joke fully as much as did the boys, who, according to a prearranged plan, had placed each successive article in the prodigy's mouth. As to the prodigy, his one accomplishment consisted of trotting into the house and trotting out of it again.—Nevil G. Henshaw in Bohemian.

Table Mountain.

At Capetown, in South Africa, where the traveler usually has the first glimpse of the continent, is Table mountain, a magnificent natural curiosity which rises behind the city to the height of almost 4,000 feet and has a level top about three square miles in area. Its resemblance to a huge table is so marked that the dense clouds which collect at times around the summit are referred to as the tablecloth. A pretty little flower which is found nowhere else on earth grows on top, while on the northern side of its base is a similarly rare tree, popularly called the silver leaf tree.

A Good Guess.

"Does your father know you smoke, little boy?" asked the inquisitive stranger.

"I guess not," replied the bad boy "He doesn't lock up his cigars."—Detroit Free Press.

A Useless Rule.

He (teaching her bridge)—When in doubt it's a good rule to play trumps. She—But that's just it; when I'm in doubt I don't know what the trump is. —Philadelphia Record

The Slow One.

"Would you," he said after they had been sitting in the dark for a long time, "be angry with me if I were to kiss you?"

She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken she replied:

"Why do you suppose I turned down the light an hour and a half ago?"

And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started far in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

A Chronic Grumbler.

Charles Lamb tells of a chronic grumbler who always complained at whist because he had so few trumps. By some artifice his companions managed to fix the cards so that when he dealt he got the whole thirteen, hoping to extort some expression of satisfaction, but he only looked more wretched than ever as he examined his hand.

"Well, Tom," said Lamb, "haven't you trumps enough this time?"

"Yes,"—grunted Tom, "but I've no other cards."

Not Particular.

Mme. Calve at a ladies' luncheon was condoned by an elderly spinster on the ground that a laudatory article about her had not been very subtle or discriminating.

"I know well," said the spinster, smiling behind her glittering spectacles, "that only discriminating praise counts as praise with you."

"Don't talk about discriminating praise," answered Mme. Calve. "Fulsome flattery is good enough for me." —Washington Star.

Absorbing.

"Is the new filing system a success?"

"Great!"

"And how's business?"

"Oh, we've stopped business to attend to the filing system."—Boston Traveler

YOUTHFUL BEAUTY

How to Retain and Preserve it for Many Years.

What would you give for a sure method of stopping the ravages of time—or, better still—turning back the hands of the clock for a few years until you returned to the period of rosy cheeks and the clear, healthful complexion that we so greatly admire in youth? This is easier than it sounds, and here is no mystery about the process, for it simply requires the combined use of Crown Cream and the Harlan Beauty Cup. The countless friends of Crown Cream know that this is the one toilet article that never disappoints its patrons. Even when used without massage, it works wonders for starved skin tissuse, plumping out those portions that are illy nourished; cleansing away impurities, as well as pimples, black heads, liver spots and like blemishes.

But it is when used with the Beauty Cup that Crown Cream is really at its best because then it has the advantage of the most pefect form of massage ever devised. Nothing else will act so quickly upon wrinkles and the other marks of time which are so unnecessary. The Beauty Cup costs only 50c, and this is the price, too, of Crown Cream by the jar. Your dealer should keep both of these toilet necessities, but if he does not, you can order them direct from the Harlan Mfg. Co., Toledo, O., will send the goods prepaid upon receipt of price.

APPROVES THE TAFT PROGRAM

Is Friendly to Inland Waterways But With Him the Best Interests of the Whole Country Come First. Death of Chairman Andrews.

It is a positive certainty that the cost of living in the United States will be thoroughly aired by congress. The responsibility for high prices will be definitely fixed just where it belongs and if governmental remedy is possible that remedy will be supplied promptly and effectively. If responsibility for "the white man's burden," and for that matter every man's burden, rests with the tariff that fact will be developed, and promptly too. On Saturday last President Taft served notice upon the Republican leaders in congress that he will not consent to any evasion by the committee to have charge of the proposed inquiry into the cost of household necessities. He will not submit, he has declared, to any whitewash of the tariff. The committee on inquiry must hew to the line regardless of where the chips may fall. In his firm position the President is being sustained and supported by United States Senator Boies Penrose, one of the chief advisors of the executive.

Senator Penrose has also taken a strong position against large appropriations for internal improvements by the present congress. He has warned members of congress that the condition of the federal finances will not permit heavy expenditures for river and harbor projects, the construction of federal buildings and other public work. The Senator is an enthusiastic advocate of the development of inland waterways. He is especially interested in the further improvement of the Ohio, the Monongahela and Allegheny, and the deepening of the harbors at Erie and Philadelphia. But he takes the broad view that the interests of the country must be the first consideration. He urges that congress should enact a river and harbor bill that will limit appropriations to the continuance of improvements now in progress. A strong sentiment prevails in both branches of congress in favor of a bill that will appropriate at least eighty millions for river and harbor work. To take this amount from the Treasury during this year, Senator Penrose says, might result in embarrassment to the administration of President Taft. He suggests that large expenditures for internal improvements be delayed until the next congress, when the Payne bill will have been in operation long enough to enable officials of the Treasury to accurately estimate what may be expected from it as a producer of revenue. The Pennsylvania Senator is as familiar with the government's finances as any other Senator. As a member of the Finance Committee, the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads and the new Committee on Public Expenditures, he has been brought into close relationship with the Treasury and has carefully investigated the government's financial system. Senators Aldrich and Hale and other Republican leaders in the Senate concur with Senator Penrose in his views relative to economy in public expenditures. The last large river and harbor bill authorized a total appropriation of about eighty-five millions and two years ago congress appropriated about twenty-seven millions for the construction of federal buildings.

Every Republican in Pennsylvania will learn with sincere regret of the death of Wesley Richard Andrews, chairman of the Republican committee of Pennsylvania, which occurred at Washington last Saturday. Col. Andrews was a Republican, staunch and true. He stood consistently and firmly for political organization and he had a capacity for details far beyond the ordinary man. He was a soldier and a gentleman. He knew Pennsylvania politics. He served his party long and well. Those who knew him best, regardless of party lines, will regard his death as a personal loss. Col. Andrews just recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday. On Monday his remains were buried in New York beside the remains of his wife and daughters. Col. Andrews won many notable battles, but in his final contest he yielded without a protest to the unseen Power which lays the shepherd's crook beside the scepter.

Good Will

If you are sure of the good will in your own heart you will surely find it in God, in man, everywhere, and you will be able to see that the sun is shining, all nature is fair and friends are kind.—Rev. A. G. Singsen, Presbyterian, Providence, R. I.

Unending Joy.

This life is but a time of preparation for a life of unending joy and bliss. This is the lesson we are to learn today—that heaven is to be gained only through suffering; unending joy is to be purchased with the coin of sacrifice. First the cross, then the crown.—Rev. David J. Toomey, Roman Catholic, Boston.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Whoever Loves Is Never Old.

When life has been well spent age is a loss of what it can well spare—muscular strength, organic instincts, gross bulk and works that belong to these. But the central wisdom which was old in infancy was young in fourscore years and, dropping off obstructions, leaves in happy subjects the mind purified and wise. I have heard that whoever loves is to no condition old. I have heard that whenever the name of man is spoken the doctrine of immortality is announced. It cleaves to his constitution. The mode of it baffles our wit, and no whisper comes to us from the other side. But the inference from the working of intellect, having knowledge, having skill—at the end of life just ready to be born—affirms the inspiration of affection and of the moral sentiment.—Ralph Walde Emerson.

A Mother's Troubles.

The mother of a large family fell ill and died, and the attending physician reported that she died of starvation. It was incredible, but he proved it. The woman had to get the dinner and then spend the next two hours in waiting on the family and getting the children to the table. It was never on record that she got all of them there at the same time, and they came straggling in all the way from potatoes to pie. By the time she had wiped the last face her own hunger had left her and she had no desire to eat. Chickens, the doctor said, come running at feed time, but children don't. A hen has a better chance to eat than a mother.—Atchison Globe.

Marlborough House.

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44,000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare upon the society of her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay:

Acquainted with the world and quite well bred,
Drusa receives her visitants in bed.

In the earlier years of the nineteenth century Marlborough House was rented by Leopold, king of the Belgians. It was afterward bestowed by the crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

Weather (seven letters, seven words): We, A, eat, at, the, he, her.

To the Public.

In view of the fact that the local journeymen barber's union compelled the master barber of Charleroi to sign a scale formulated by them increasing the price of shaving to 15 cents, and imposing other terms, I desire to state that such proceeding was unwarranted. I had already signed a yearly agreement with Local No. 20 of Pittsburg for one year, ending May 1. Correspondence with the International secretary reveals the fact that the local union had no right to make such a demand, while the other agreement was in existance. Therefore my shop will be conducted the same as heretofore until the other agreement expires.

THE FINEST SHOW OF ENTIRE SEASON

One of the biggest theatrical hits of the year has been "St. Elmo," a dramatization of the well known story written more than half a century ago by Augusta J. Evans. There are several other versions of this play being presented by different people throughout the country, but the only authorized version is that which will be shown at the Coyle Theatre Thursday night, February 10. This company is under the direction of Mr Vaughan Glaseer, who has attained much prominence as a producer of new plays, and the fact that he was one of the first to see merit in "St. Elmo" as a play certainly redounds to his credit. He has selected a cast of exceptional ability to portray the difficult roles in this play of Tennesee life. Edgar Lewis will portray the character of St. Elmo, and will be ably assisted by Miss Irene Gammell as Edna Earl, whose evolution from a crude "Po white" to the fascinating protege of an aristocratic Southern woman, is swift and complete. They are surrounded by a cast of more than ordinary excellence among whom are the following well known people: Marie Lorenz, Virginia Bray, Roy Rawings Hugh Wynne, John W. Noble, G. W. Ward and Gertude Augarde.

Entertains Friends.

Miss Florence Osborne entertained the "Lemonade Crowd," composed of a number of young people of Charleroi at her home on Washington avenue last evening. The evening was delightfully spent with music and games, and the hostess served a lunch.

Why does Great Britian buy its oatmeal of us?

Certainly it seems like carrying coals to Newcastle to speak of exporting oatmeal to Scotland and yet, every year the Quaker Oats Company sends hundreds of thousands of cases of Quaker Oats to Great Britian and Europe.

The reason is simple; while the English and Scotch have for centuries eaten oatmeal in quantities and with a regularity that has made them the most rugged physically, and active mentally of all people, the American has been eating oatmeal and trying all the time to improve the methods of manufacture so that he might get that desirable foreign trade.

How well he has succeeded would be seen at a glance at the export reports on Quaker Oats. This brand is without a rival; is packed in regular 10c packages, and in large size family packages at 25c. 51

CLERKS AND TRADES UNION COMMITTEES DO NOT SEE MERCHANTS

Tour of Stores Postponed Until Later Date When all Can be Present.

Contrary to expectations the joint committee from the Clerks' union consisting of T. J. Shores, Walter Jack, Miss Victorine Hantiss, Tina Estenfelder and Victorine Laborie and the one from the Central Trades Union, consisting of J. Ferry, D. H. Glunt, and H. L. Silverman, failed to see the Charleroi merchants yesterday to get them to sign the contract prepared by the clerks, regarding the hours of work, and regulating conditions generally. It is likely the committees will get together on Friday morning to see the merchants. The clerks do not try to regulate the wage scale, but are trying to systematize the matter of closing stores evenings.

LICENSE APPLICANTS WERE HEARD YESTERDAY

The hearing, for the retail applications for license were finished at license court yesterday at 2:30 o'clock and Judge McIlvaine thanked the attorneys for the expeditious manner in which they transacted the business.
